

DELTA PROTECTION COMMISSION

2006 – 2011 Draft Strategic Plan

INTRODUCTION

The Delta is a fragile ecosystem that serves as a vital natural resource and hub of economic activity. The Delta Protection Act of 1992 (the “Act”) is intended to protect and enhance the Delta’s resources as provided for in the Land Use and Resource Management Plan for the Primary Zone of the Delta (the “Regional Plan”). The strategic plan is a product of the Delta Protection Commission’s (the “Commission”) visioning process, which is meant to further implement the Regional Plan.

2006 – 2011 Draft Strategic Plan

OVERVIEW OF OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS

The purpose of the Commission is to protect, preserve and enhance the Delta as it exists today serving multiple functions, including:

- agricultural land preservation
- habitat protection
- enhancing recreational; opportunities
- flood protection
- serving as a water and land transportation network, along with many other vital infrastructure components.

Opportunities for achieving the above purposes include:

- infrastructure bond funding
- grants
- collaborate with relevant local, state and federal agencies
- participate in Delta visioning
- propose legislation to expand Commissioner representation

Threats to the above include:

- inconsistent levee integrity (including subsidence)
- proximity to seismic fault zones
- population growth and increased demands on all infrastructure elements of the Delta
- urban encroachment in the primary and secondary zones
- market pressures on agribusiness i.e., conversion of ag land to non-agriculture uses
- insufficient integrated regional planning and implementation
- disputes over public access
- environmental influences such as invasion of non-native species in the waterways, rising ocean levels, water quality issues etc.
- greater need for Commission stewardship and social responsibility (e.g., abandoned vessels, dumping and pollution)
- water conveyance for 23 million consumers

2006 – 2011 Draft Strategic Plan

- Sufficient water flow in and through the Delta to meet the needs of Delta water users (residential, commercial and agricultural), recreation, habitat preservation and water quality.

Mission:

To protect, maintain, and, where possible, enhance and restore the overall quality of the Delta environment consistent with the Delta Protection Act and the Regional Plan, including, but not limited to, agriculture, wildlife habitat and recreational activities; to assure orderly, balanced conservation and development of Delta land resources and improved flood protection.
